

Resource Room English (English 10, English 11, and English 12)

Resource Room English is designed to meet the needs of students who struggle with the written word, in reading and in their own writing. The Resource Room is also a place for students who need a smaller classroom environment. Students in Resource Room English are IEP students so their individual plans mandate the goals and accommodations for each of them. In this class, the focus is on improving reading skills, writing skills, and developing an interest in life-long learning.

Textbooks include Basic English, Globe Fearon Educational Publishers, 1995; American Literature, Globe Fearon Educational Publishers, 1996: Supplemental and teacher-developed materials are also used.
